RACHEL ROSE: LAKE VALLEY

This exhibition features a video and sound installation by Rachel Rose, one of the best-known artists working with moving images in America today. Lake Valley, 2016, is an animated piece that explores a day in the life of a young girl and her pet, using children's book illustrations and noises to form a family's world that is at once unique and every day. This family-friendly exhibition includes an area with books and activities for all ages.

Rachel Rose, still from Lake Valley, 2016. HD video, 8:25 min. Collection of Art Bridges. Image courtesy the artist, Pilar Corrias Gallery, London and Gavin Brown's enterprise, New York/Rome.

ILLUSTRATE YOUR STORY

Illustrate a scene from the story you created. Think about these questions when illustrating your scene: Who is the main character of your story? Where is your story taking place? What is the theme? Be creative. Experiment with mix media, use cut outs from books, magazines and newspaper. Add color to your scene using watercolors, colorpencils, or markers.
